Coptic American Friendship Association (CAFA) calls upon the US Department of State, House and Senate, rights organizations, USCIRF, and the Media to investigate these ongoing shameful mass murder and sectarian violence crimes committed by the Muslim extremists against innocent Christians in Egypt and the indirect role of the Egyptian security forces behind most incidents. The international community must hold the Egyptian regime responsible for the protection and safety of the persecuted Christian minority in Egypt. Equal citizenship rights, justice and religious freedom for Copts and converts are the very basic rights the Coptic Christians request from president Mubarak's government.
